

972 Avenue Road, Suite 2
Toronto, Ontario M5P 2K8

phone: 416.809.7829
email: contact@retiredworker.ca
url: www.retiredworker.ca

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RetiredWorker.ca giving 5% of revenue to breast cancer research

Leading 50+ employment website will donate $5 to the Canadian Breast Cancer Foundation for every job posting purchased in February

Toronto, ON (February 6, 2008) - RetiredWorker.ca, the largest employment website for 50+ job-seekers in Canada, has just announced that they will donate $5 to the Canadian Breast Cancer Foundation for every job posting purchased in February.

"Retired Worker was inspired by my mother, who continues to be our model for the changing face of retirement," says Sarah Welstead, Co-Founder and Managing Partner. "However, Max's mother died of breast cancer about a year before we started Retired Worker. This is our way of honoring her memory."

'Max' is Max Stocker, the other co-founder of Retired Worker. "My mother's illness permanently raised my awareness of the importance of breast cancer research," says Stocker, 31, who is also the company's CIO. "Throughout her illness, we were very appreciative of the support we received from the community – we couldn't think of a better way to give back to an organization which has done a lot for a disease that takes too many of our mothers, wives, sisters and daughters far too early."

About Retired Worker:

Retired Worker is the first employment website in North America for retired people who want to work on a part-time, temporary or casual basis. Launched in Toronto in October 2003, Retired Worker now has 25,000+ registered job-seekers across Canada. For more information, visit www.retiredworker.ca.

Media requiring more information or an interview, please contact:

Sarah Welstead
Managing Partner, Retired Worker
416.809.7829
sarah@retiredworker.ca